

JOIN THE FIGHT TO STOP SENATE BILL 61 "RIGHT-TO-WORK"

What is "Right to Work"?

"Right to Work" legislation isn't about expanding rights and freedoms. Existing law already protects the rights of workers who don't want to join a union or to support a union's political efforts.

Instead, these laws prevent unions from requiring that workers who benefit from union representation pay their fair share of that representation. "Right to Work" laws aim to restrict union resources and to thereby impede unions' ability to negotiate better wages, benefits, and working conditions for workers.

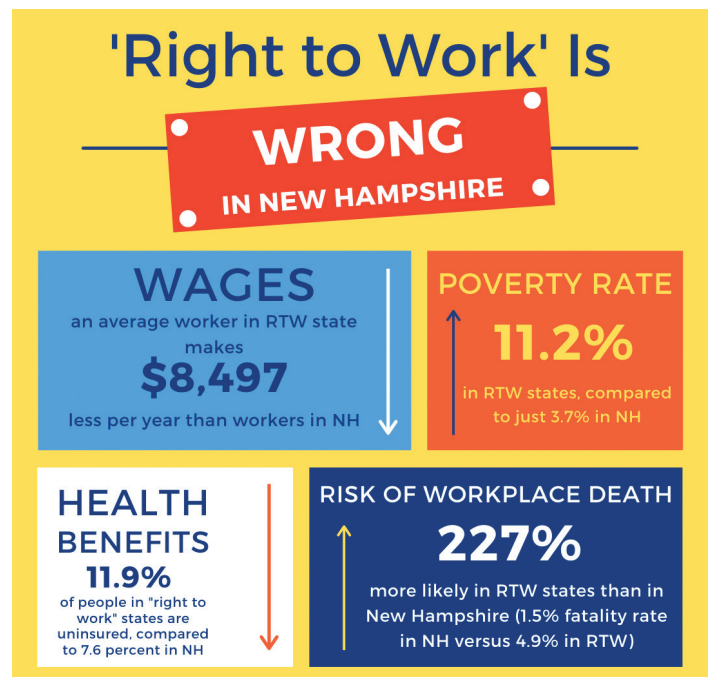

Why Should I Care?

"Right to Work" laws harm workers because they diminish our ability to collectively advocate for equitable wages and safe working conditions.

Studies consistently show that in states where so-called "Right to Work" is the law, wages for all workers are significantly lower, poverty rates are higher and fewer workers have health insurance. In addition, states that have "Right to Work" laws have much higher rates of job site injury and death.

Who Supports "Right to Work"?

"Right to Work" is being financially supported by an out-of-state corporate special interest group that is spending hundreds of thousands of dollars on lobbying and campaign contributions to try to pass this anti-union legislation that will drive down wages and hurt working families.
